REPORT.

To the Class: —

I preface my Class Report, as usual, with an apology — this time asking your pardon for not having given my personal attention to Class matters so much as I ought or should have desired. Professional and official duties, added to recent personal engagements, have crowded out of this year all my leisure moments, and left me absolutely no time personally to prepare this Report and attend to other Class work. The preparatory work of collecting data has been done by clerical assistance under my direction. I find, much to my regret, and, no doubt, to your annoyance, that mistakes have been made; also that some of the Class have taken offence at the sharpness of the notice to delinquents to answer. For the first I ask pardon; for the last I plead justification and self-defence. No Class Secretary can properly do his work without the active, prompt assistance of all the Class, at least to the extent of answering his notices; such assistance, I regret to find from experience, will not be given to an easy-going Secretary, of serene temper, a calm disposition and Christian spirit. Accordingly I have made no pretence to such characteristics, but have poked delinquents with as sharp a stick as I could find — and with fair success, though also with some personal discomfort.

Classmate Rollins has, with great kindness, prepared and edited this Report. Upon him have been all the work and trouble, and to him is due all the credit. I am sure you will join me in thanking him for the careful, thorough Report that he has made.

Since the last Report there have been five deaths in the Class, and numerous marriages; the Class finances still continue in a thriving condition ; the Class itself has become settled, sedate, and sober, and, so far as the Secretary's vision extends, seems to enjoy that great happiness and prosperity that were predicted for old '77.

Hoping that your Secretary will be informed of and scolded for any mistakes in this Report, that delinquents may yet pay their dues so long in arrears, and that long life, health, and happiness may attend you all, I am,

Your Classmate and Secretary,

WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

* JOHN CONLAN. Born at East Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 9, '54 Died Jan. 2, '84.

* John Conlan was born at East Cambridge, Feb. 9, 1854, and died at his native place, Jan. 2, 1884. He attended the common schools of Cambridge, graduating from the Putnam Grammar School in 1867, and from the High School in 1871, when he passed a successful examination for Harvard College. He did not enter college, however, till 1873, the two intervening years being spent as a student at law in the office of L Marrett, in East Cambridge. After graduating with us in '77, he entered the Harvard Law School, where he remained until April, 1878. In the following July he was admitted to the Bar in Middlesex County, and at once entered upon the practice of his profession at East Cambridge.

Conlan had always known the meaning of work. He was always diligent, and whatever he did was done well. During his college course, duties outside of college life demanded much of his time, and he was therefore less intimately known to many than he would have been had his time been all his own ; but those who knew him best will long remember his entire manliness, his gentlemanly demeanor, his untiring industry, and his fidelity to every duty.

His fellow-citizens in Cambridge learned to know him in various public offices, and showed their confidence in him by electing him to the Common Council in 1878 and 1879, to the Board of Trustees of the Public Library in 1881, for two years, and again for five years, in 1883. In December, 1881, he was elected a member of the School Committee for three years.

His last illness began with a slight cold, which developed into typhoid pneumonia. Christmas day he was up and about the house, and no fatal result was expected. He grew rapidly worse, however, until the end came on Jan. 2. Services were held at the Church of the Sacred Heart, at East Cambridge, and he was buried in Holyhood Cemetery at Brookline.

He died under thirty years of age. With good ability, an earnest purpose, a mind well trained and stored by study and thought, his life gave every promise of success. The public offices that he filled came to him unsought, and his discharge of them fairly earned him a reputation among the citizens of Cambridge. His manners were quiet, and at first a little reserved, but he was true to his friends and they knew his worth. The class may take an honest pride in the achievements of this short life, and sincerely mourn its early end. J. F. T.

"With the exception of some lectures on educational topics, my writings have been mostly on religious subjects. Was regular contributor to The Christian Examiner, Richmond, Va. Articles: 'The Pathos of Prayer;' 'Discriminative Teaching;' 'Duty and Necessity Identical.' Poems: 'In the Spirit;' 'A Song o' the Spring.' A serial story in Bowling Green Democrat, entitled 'A Bit of Real Life.' Public addresses prepared and delivered, over 300. In Dec., '80, left Bowling Green to take charge of the Christian Church in Danbury, Conn. Remained there one year. Returning to Kentucky, I resumed charge of the church in Bowling Green. Made a pilgrimage to Cambridge in May, '81, to witness the presentation of Œdipus Tyrannus. Spent part of the Winters of '82 and '83 in Orange County, Fla. During the past Winter I encouraged the World's Exposition at New Orleans by my presence for a few days. My published writings, since '80, are scarcely worth cataloguing here. My studies have been such as you might duplicate in a thousand other clergymen, differing only in this, that I have mingled with them the smell of the fresh earth. In '83 I purchased a farm, eight miles east of Bowling Green, and built on it, where I am now living. Have charge of the Oakland Church. Married Nov. 5, '78, to Ella Carpenter, of Bowling Green, daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth Carpenter. Children born to us: Sept. 24, '79, a son, Robert Trible Fergusson; April 20, '82, a daughter, Mildred Enid Fergusson; Nov. 26, '83, a son, Russell Lowell Fergusson." Address: Oakland Station, Warren County, Ky.

Paddock, Bishop of Massachusetts; to the priesthood in '81 (May 11) by Rt. Rev. Thomas A. Jaggar, Bishop of Southern Ohio. Served as missionary one year at London, Ohio. Served as Rector two years at Ravenna, Ohio. Since leaving Ravenna has been assistant minister at Christ Church, Elizabeth, N. J., his present address.

ALFRED GOODING. Born in Brookline, Mass., May 10, '56. First year after graduation was tutor in a family at Thornedale on the Hudson. Second year studied Theology at Bonn University, Germany, and later at Göttingen University. Returned home about May 1, '80, and entered the Cambridge Divinity School that Summer as a member of the class of '81; took the degree the following year, and in Dec., '81, was settled over the Unitarian Church, at Brunswick, Me. Resided there until Oct., '84. In the Summer of that year invited to take charge of the South Church at Portsmouth, N. H.; installed in October. Address: Portsmouth, N. H.

HENRY GOODRICH. Born at Pecan Grove, in Carroll Parish, Louisiana, Feb. 21, '54. From Autumn of '77 till July, '78, I taught Mathematics and Physical Sciences at Rye, Westchester County, N. Y., in Park Institute. Summer of '78 came South, and till Jan., '80, was Principal of the Providence public white school, and was Parish Examiner, and on the Board of School Directors. In '80 was a cotton planter on the Mississippi River, about fifty miles north of Vicksburg, on the Louisiana side, at his old home plantation. "From '81, for four consecutive years my cotton plantation was inundated by the mighty Mississippi, from March till July, and nearly all value was washed off of it, or rather deeply covered by sand precipitates. In the Fall of '82, I was appointed United States Assistant Engineer, in charge of the levees of North Louisiana, and as such have remained till now. Under my personal supervision, location, and measurement, the government has expended nearly a quarter of a million dollars, in embankments. Of course, construction followed destruction, and the work has been, fortunately, at my very doors, and kept me busy most of the time. I have endeavored to keep up with the literature of engineering and that of pure and applied mathematics, especially Quaternions. On Feb. 8, '82, I was married to Antonia P. Goff, of Friar's Point, Miss., by the Rev. H. O. White. Dr. Thomas J. Goff and Mary C. Beard, both deceased, were my wife's parents. Our little two-year-old daughter, Beulah G., was born Dec. 3, '82. My intention is to continue the practice of engineering, as more profitable than the precarious business of planting." Address: Illawara P. O., East Carroll Parish, La.

JAMES WELLS GOODWIN. Born in Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 1, '55. Studied law at the Harvard Law School from Oct., '77, to Jan., '80. "After leaving the Law School I read law until I passed the examination for admission to the Essex Bar in June, '80. Soon after, I went to St. Paul, Minn., and served as clerk in a law office for a few months, and the year following edited the Federal Reporter. In the Spring of '82 I returned to Haverhill and entered the employ of a leather firm, where I am at date of writing (June 2, '85)." Address: Haverhill, Mass.

MORRIS GRAY. Born in Boston, March 7, '56. Studied law since graduation at the Harvard Law School till beginning of '80, and afterwards in Boston. In June, '80, was admitted to the Boston Bar, and received a degree from the Harvard Law School. Travelled the next year. "Crossing our continent and the Pacific, I visited Japan, China, the Malay Peninsula, Java, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Turkey, Greece, Italy, Switzerland, France, and England. Since my return I have practised my profession. Sept. 15, '83, I married Flora, daughter of Patrick and Charlotte B. Grant, of Boston. July 3, '84, a son, Morris Gray, Jr., was born. In the early part of the present year I published a law book, entitled 'Communications by Telegraph.'" Address: 62 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

JAMES RIPLEY WELLMAN HITCHCOCK. Born in Fitchburg, Mass., July 3, '57. After graduation, studied for two years in Fitchburg, keeping up Philosophy under Prof. Bowen for one year. Sept., '79, went to New York and wrote for various newspapers. He writes: "In the Summer of '80 I accepted a position upon the staff of the New York Tribune. In the Autumn I began to do the minor art work of that journal. This, with much special work and some unimportant journeys as correspondent, occupied me for two years. In the Summer and early Autumn of '82 I travelled through Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Chihuahua, Sonora, Southern Arizona, and California as the correspondent of the Tribune; I also wrote a series of letters for the Boston Herald. This was my post-graduate course in ranch, mining, camp, and Indian life. I did not enjoy one or two trips through a section then harried by Apaches, and I made a close acquaintance with Mexican bayonets and six-shooters upon one occasion under circumstances which caused me much inward disturbance, although I trust that I outwardly manifested the true 'Harvard indifference.' Soon after my return I became the art critic of the Tribune. I also wrote editorials and book reviews. In the Summer of '83 I went into New Mexico and through Northern Arizona, where I camped for a time in the San Francisco forests, hunting antelopes and exploring cliff dwellings. After a week at Los Angeles and another in San Francisco, I went by steamer to Portland, Oregon, thence to Puget Sound, and into the wilderness around Mt. Tacoma to visit its glaciers. Twenty-five miles on mule back, and apparently endless journeying on foot over mountain ridges, through wooded cañons, with considerable tumbling about on ice slopes and snow fields, gave me more exercise than I have known since Bull, Harriman, and myself rowed behind Loring on the Holworthy Six. Afterward I saw a little of British Columbia, Southern Oregon, Eastern Washington, Montana, and back through Dakota. The Harvard landmarks met with were 'traces' of Young in Pueblo, Colorado; a hospitable member of '69 in Tombstone, Arizona; Hastings in San Francisco; Bourne in Portland, and F. G. Wheeler in Helena, Montana. The fear that Bourne's modesty would take offence, restrains me from saying anything regarding his record in law and the business life of the Northwest. But I know that Bourne himself will give the Secretary a very scanty idea of his successes. I might add something about that most delightful of clubs, the Arlington, of which Bourne was a founder and is the Secretary, but I believe verbosity is not at a premium here as it used to be in good old Dr. Peabody's Ethics. During this second trip I wrote two series of letters for the Tribune and the Boston Herald. I continue to be the art critic of the Tribune, writing also some book reviews and editorials, and for three years I have contributed with considerable regularity to the Boston Herald. Much of my time is occupied with literary work outside of daily journalism. As to book writing, I am the author of the text of 'Some Modern Etchings,' and a monograph upon George Inness, N. A. Four or five years ago I wrote an article of some length for the supplement of Appleton's Encyclopædia. Among my contributions to monthly periodicals have been articles for St. Nicholas, the Art Amateur, and four for Outing. Some of the weekly publications for which I have written are the Youth's Companion, Puck, The Current, The Christian Union, and The Churchman. Let me explain that my contributions to the last two periodicals have been upon art, and not of the nature which their names might seem to indicate. I am at present engaged upon a second book which, like the first, will contain a selection of etchings. I am a member of the Authors' Club and a trustee of the National Society of Arts, New York branch. I was married on May 23, '83, at Christ Church, Springfield, Mass., to Martha Wolcott Hall, daughter of the late David Aiken Hall, of Washington, D. C." Address: The Authors' Club, No. 19 West 24th Street, New York, N. Y.

Address: Cambridge, Mass.

* GEORGE EDWARD HOVEY. Born in Roxbury (now Boston Highlands), Mass., Nov. 22, '53. Died July 7, '84, of consumption, after an illness of several years. [The Secretary has but recently heard of his decease. On Commencement Day the class will, by proper resolutions, express their deep regret for this loss.]

WILLIAM LAWRENCE HUMASON. Born in New Britain, Conn., June 7, '53. Is Assistant Treasurer and a director of the Humason & Beckley Manufacturing Company, a corporation with which he has been connected since graduation, with place of business and residence at New Britain, Conn. Is Secretary of the New Britain Club, an incorporated body, composed of the leading business and professional men of New Britain. Married Oct. 15, '84, in Kensington, Conn., by the Rev. A. J. Benedict, to Florence Minerva Cole, daughter of Mrs. Ira Cole, of Kensington. Address: New Britain, Conn.

FREEMAN HUNT. Born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 4, '55. "Read law for six months after graduation; then went to Europe for seven months, returning in Dec., '78. Entered the Harvard Law School, Jan., '79, and received degree of LL. B. In '81 read law with Judge Parmenter of Municipal Court; also with Hon. George S. Hale from June, '81, to May, '82, and was admitted to Suffolk Bar, Jan. 30, '82. In Oct., '82, I commenced the practice of my profession at 7 State Street with H. Eugene Bolles, and so continued until May, '83, when Mr. Bolles left, and I continued at the same place with Wm. C. Tarbell. We have continued together ever since, but changed our office to 10 Tremont Street in Oct., '84. Was elected to Cambridge School Committee in '84, and re-elected for a term of three years in '85. Have written several articles on legal and political questions for different papers; did some speaking and some political work in the way of organizing in the late national campaign; have also taken some part in city politics." Address: 32 Lancaster Street, Cambridge, Mass., or 10 Tremont Street, Rooms 51 and 51½, Boston, Mass.

GEORGE WOOD HUSE. Born in Newburyport, Dec. 24, '54. Writes: "The year '77–78 I spent in Cambridge. In Oct., '78, I entered the Medical School, where I remained till the end of the year. In Sept., '80, I resumed my course at the Medical School, where I remained for two years. As I intended to take the fourth year, I did not apply for my degree in '82. Circumstances altered my plans, and I took the three-years' degree of M. D. in '83. During the year '82–83, I had some practice, and in Aug., '83, I took an office at 6 Park Square, Boston. In Oct., '83, I was admitted to the Massachusetts Medical Society. Jan. 7, '84, I went to Quincy, Massachusetts, as assistant to J. A.

Gordon, M. D., with whom I spent six very pleasant and profitable months. In the latter part of July, '84, I opened an office in West Quincy. I have taken some of the post-graduate courses at the Medical School and intend to take more. I have taken no active part in politics, but, at this year's town meeting, was elected a member of the Quincy Board of Health." Address: West Quincy, Mass.

ANSELM HELM JAYNE. Born at "Bellevue," near Jackson, Miss., Sept. 12, '56. Taught two years in the High School, Columbus, Ohio. In Oct., '79, went to Jackson, Miss., as Principal in College Green public school. "Am temporarily living at Stoneville, Washington County, Miss., engaged in teaching a public school. In '80–82 was a tutor in the University of Mississippi High School at Oxford; in '82–83 had a private school at Jackson; in '83–84 was a Professor of Mathematics in the State Agricultural and Mechanical College near Starkville, which I was compelled to resign because of radical difference of opinion with the President of that institution. Last Summer I made a journey to Texas, visiting Austin, San Marcos, and San Antonio." Address (after July 1): Brandon, Miss.

THOMAS WILLIAM KENEFICK. Born in Leominster, Mass., Sept. 17, '55. Writes: "Entered the Harvard Law School in Fall after graduation, and remained one year. In following Fall entered the office of Charles R. Train, ex-Attorney-General, in Boston, and remained there as a student until June, '79, when he moved to Palmer, Mass., where he is now practising law. Was admitted to the Hampden County Bar at October Term, 1879." Address: Palmer, Mass.

Feb. 2, '83, there was born to us a daughter, Grace Howe Legate." Address: 20 Boylston Place, Boston, Mass.

SAMUEL LELAND. Born in Ashland, Mass., Nov. 28, '55. The first year after graduation spent as tutor in the family of Benjamin Kittredge, of Peekskill, N. Y. Was afterwards engaged as tutor in St. Mark's School, Southboro', Mass. "In Sept, '81, I came to Chicago and entered the Harvard School, where I have been engaged for the last four years. My work has been mostly the teaching of the Classics. Sept. 14, '82, at West Newton, Mass., I was married, by Rev. Lester Potter, to Adelia Pike Tuttle, daughter of Chas. F. and Adelia P. Tuttle. July 22, '83, upon my father's birthday, a son was born, who received his grandfather's name, Luther Erving Leland, 2d; the boy died Dec. 20, '84, on the anniversary of my mother's death, at the age of 17 months." Address: 2101 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

FRANCIS JULIUS LE MOYNE. Born in Chicago, Jan. 19, '54. Writes: "Residing in Lake View, a close suburb of Chicago, I am now practising law in Chicago, having been admitted to the Illinois Bar in March, '80. Since then I have been pretty steadily at work; once, however, in the Summer of '82, I tried my hand at farming for about three months, but then returned promptly to the law. I have never written or published anything except at the Class Secretary's earnest request. My political work has been but little more than voting, and taking an independent stand against the 'regulars' of either lines. So far, all the girls have had the courage and fortitude to resist my charms, and, therefore, it is impossible to give my wife's name 'in full.'" Address: 89 Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

JOHN TORREY LINZEE. Born in Nahant, Mass., Aug. 6, '56. Went abroad immediately after leaving college. Returned Dec, '78, and went into business Feb. 1, '79, as clerk with E. Rollins Morse & Bros., bankers and brokers, Boston, where he still remains. Address: 20 Marlboro Street, Boston, Mass.

EDWARD SANDFORD MARTIN. Born at "Willowbrook," near Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 2, '56. Writes: "Studied some after graduation, but in Oct., '79, went to Washington, D. C. Resigned clerkship in State Department in March, '80. In Oct., '80, went on the New York Sun, and there continued until March, '81, when I went around the Horn to San Francisco in a sailing vessel. From Sept., '81, until April, '82, worked in a paper mill at Bennington, N. H. From May, '82, until November of that year, worked in paper mills at Cumberland Mills, Me. About July, '82, published a volume of works under the (obnoxious) title of 'Sly Ballades from Harvard China.' In Nov., '82, went to New York to edit Life, which appeared in the following January, and still continues. Left Life in June, '83, and in August came to Rochester, where I studied law with H. G. Danforth until March 28, '84, when I was admitted to the Bar. Practised law as clerk and attorney in Rochester for eight months. Dec. 1, '84, hired out to the Rochester Union and Advertiser as associate editor, which position I continue to fill. Am not married and have no children, nor any deceased wife. Have received no degrees, honors, or appointments, unless permission to practise as attorney and counsellor, as above stated, can be so described." Present address: Rochester, N. Y.

ROBERT JOB MELLEDGE. Born in Cambridge, June 30, '55. Was in business in Montreal during the Summer of '78; was afterwards clerk with J. P. Melledge, Boston. "I have been in business in Boston since last report." Address: Cambridge, Mass.

EDWARD PRESTON MERRIAM. Born in Concord, N. H., Nov. 27, '53. "I still reside at Leominster, Mass., where I have been employed at clerical work in the office of Hamilton Mayo since Sept., '83. In the early part of '80 I received an appointment to the Interior Department at Washington, where I remained until Dec. 30, of that year, when I was called home on account of my father's death. I was then obliged to leave Washington. In '83 I obtained another government position, but thought best to decline it. During the last five years I have spent some time studying law, and hope to be admitted to the Bar soon." Present address (likely soon to be changed): Leominster, Mass.

JAMES MÉTIVIER. Born in Paris, France, June 4, '53. "Tutor, also Instructor of French at Harvard for '84–'35 and '85–'86. Married Jan. 1, '82, at Cambridge, by Rev. Edward Young, to Carrie, daughter of Benjamin and Mary E. Wellington, of Waltham. Two children born: Marie, Dec. 5, '82; Marguerite, Oct. 28, '84." Address: 16 Shepard Street, Cambridge.

JOSIAH BYRAM MILLET. Born in East Bridgewater, Mass., Sept. 28, '53. Writes: "I hoped to become a journalist, and with that end in view applied for and obtained, in '70, an opportunity for occasional reporting for the Boston Daily Advertiser. I fitted at Exeter, and while there, as well as during vacation, I kept up a desultory connection with the press. In my Freshman year several advantages for newspaper work appeared, and I found it convenient to make connections with the Advertiser and the Sunday Courier, which I retained while I was in college. In the Sophomore year I went to the northern Indian Agencies as Secretary and Treasurer of the Commission appointed to investigate the charges preferred against Secretary Delano and the Indian Department by Prof. O. C. Marsh of Yale. In the Junior year, after two months at the Centennial Exhibition for the Advertiser, I began writing art criticisms for that paper. In the Senior year I wrote certain articles for the 'Contributors' Club' in the Atlantic Monthly, occasional editorials for the Advertiser, and art criticisms and special articles as opportunities offered. Immediately after graduating I went on the regular staff of the Advertiser and remained there until Oct., '79, when an unfortunate accident compelled me to rest until May of '80. In that month I resumed my connection with the Advertiser as art critic, and at the same time engaged to conduct the advertising departments for two different business concerns. In Feb., '81, I engaged with Houghton, Mifflin & Co., as manager of their art department, which position I now hold. On Oct. 30, '83, I was married at the Second Church, Boston, to Emily Adams McCleary, daughter of Samuel Foster McCleary of Boston, since which time I have resided at 131 Charles Street, Boston. During the last four years I have written occasionally for the Atlantic, the Daily Advertiser, Boston Herald, New York Tribune, New York Evening Post, Philadelphia Press, and the American Art Review. In 1881 I became Secretary of the Paint and Clay Club, which I assisted in founding. I resigned the position in Oct., '84. In Jan., '85, I was made Secretary of the Boston Art Club." Address: 4 Park Street, Boston, Mass.

ROBERT SEDGWICK MINOT. Born in West Roxbury (now a part of Boston), Aug. 10, '56. For some time travelled abroad. "I have been practising law at 39 Court Street since about Oct. 1, '82. I have published three translations of no great importance, also an original pamphlet on 'Railway Speeds and Fares in Europe and America.' I was married Jan. 30, '85, to Abby Howe Manning, daughter of Wm. Wayland Manning, of Marquette, Mich., late of Cambridge, Mass." Address: 39 Court Street, Boston, Mass.

GEORGE DALLAS MORRELL. Born in Philadelphia, Nov. 4, '57. "Soon after graduation, I entered the office of A. J. D. Dixon, Esq., of the Philadelphia Bar, and pursued my legal studies there for about eighteen months, when, in Sept., '78, I came to the office of Hon. George M. Dallas. I have resided continuously in Philadelphia during the last five years. I was admitted to the Philadelphia Bar, Oct. 25, '80. After admission, I remained in office of Mr. Dallas for one year, when I went to the office of John S. Gerhard, Esq., of this Bar, with whom I remained as assistant for a year. On Sept. 25, '82, I came to my present place of daily toil as assistant to Joseph L. Tull, Esq., also a member of the Bar. My life having been pre-eminently a humdrum and monotonous one, I am able to furnish no more information of interest to the class." Address: 524 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

WILLIAM RADCLIFF MORRIS. Born in Brooklyn, L. I., Sept. 19, '55. Lawyer; from '81 to '83 of the law firm of Morris & Breckenridge; in '83 formed a partnership with Hon. James W. Savage, of H. U., '47, under the firm name of Savage & Morris, with offices in the Nebraska National Bank Building, Omaha, Neb., his present address.

ALBERT GORDON MORSE. Born in Boston, Aug. 29, '56. Read law in office of Morse & Stone, Boston; previous to that in Harvard Law School. Admitted to Suffolk Bar in Nov., '80. Did not begin to practise law until Jan., '82. Office now at 23 Court Street.

EDWARD LELAND MORSE. Born in Dover, N. H., June 12, '55. Feb., '79, to June, kept books in Trinidad, Col. Jan., '80, "car accountant" in C. & A. railway office, Kansas City, Mo. "Refusing the flattering offer of $45 a month as school teacher in Jacksonville, Ill., I came to South Chicago in May, '81, worked in a rolling mill, and in Feb., '83, was elected Principal of 89th Street School, which position I held until Nov., '84, when the brand-new Superintendent of Schools discovered my incompetency, and the School Board put me out, but hired me over again the next month. Married June 20, '79, at Springfield, Ill., to Kate L. Turnay. Her father's name was Thomas, and her mother's Kate Drury (Turnay)." Address: Box 459, South Chicago, Ill.

GEORGE MINER NASH. Born in Abington, Mass., Oct. 3, '54. Writes: "Taught till Summer of '82 in Cleveland, O. Since that time have been in insurance business, and am now manager Rhode Island Electric Power Company. Represented 11th Plymouth district in Massachusetts Legislature in '84. Was also in the same year on the Board of Selectmen of Abington." Address: Abington, Mass.

HENRY GILMAN NICHOLS. Born in Saco, Me., July 10, '54. First year after graduation was in the Harvard Law School. In the Fall of '78 went to Philadelphia, to teach Latin in a private school. While there studied law in the office of Chapman Biddle, Esq. In Fall of '79, returned to Harvard Law School. In the early part of June, '79, wrote an article in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, in reply to an editorial in that paper denouncing Harvard College for alleged meanness, etc. Was appointed a member of the executive committee of the Harvard Club of Philadelphia, in '80. "I am now practising law in Boston, being associated with B. F. Brooks, Esq., with whom I have been connected since my first admission to the Bar in the Summer of '81." Address: 40 Water Street, Boston, Mass.

DANIEL JOHN MITCHEL O'CALLAGHAN. Born in Worcester, Mass., June 12, '55. Admitted to the Essex County Bar, Jan. 19, '80. "Jan. 29, '83, I was admitted to the Bar in New York City, where I am now practising." Address: 120 Broadway, New York City.

PARKER WEBSTER PAGE. Born in District of Columbia, April 25, '56. From Sept., '77, to Jan., '81, was Assistant Examiner of Patents in United States Patent Office at Washington. Present occupation, attorney and counsellor at law, solicitor of patents, and electrical expert. Practising since Jan. 1, '81, alone. "No degrees except that of L. B. or B. L. (I don't know which it is), in Spring of '81, Columbian University, Washington, D. C. No appointments, no honors, no books, no pamphlets, no end of etcs. Some few electrical and scientific articles for periodicals. No participation in politics beyond a little wire-pulling and voting the Democratic ticket. Know of no circumstances of special interest to record, save that I have been blessed with exceptionally good health. Have been rather the victim than the maker of a most fortunate combination of circumstances by which I have secured an excellent practice and am making a good deal of money." Residence: 50 East 129th Street; office: 59 Liberty Street, New York City.

EDMUND MORLEY PARKER. Born in Cambridge, Aug. 15, '56. Sailed for Europe, July 4, '77, with W. M. Cutler of '77. Studied there and travelled. Returned May 10, '79. Began study of law May 12, '79, in the office of Horatio G. Parker, Boston; in the Fall entered Harvard Law School, and graduated in June, '82. "Admitted to the Suffolk Bar, April Term, '82; Circuit Court Bar, District of Massachusetts, November Term, '84. Have practised law in the office of Ropes, Gray & Loring, Boston, till present time. Belong to several social clubs and the Civil Service and Tariff Reform Associations." Address: 5 Craigie Street, Cambridge, Mass.

WILLIAM ELLISON PARMENTER, Jr. Born in West Cambridge (now Arlington), Mass., Feb. 7, '55. Was assistant in the clerk's office, Municipal Court, Boston, for several years. Writes: "I spent the Winter of '82 near Orange Lake, Florida, working as a hand in a large orange grove. In the Spring of '83 I bought eight acres of woodland at Orange Park, cleared and planted it to orange-trees. I am now living at Orange Park." Address: Orange Park, Clay County, Florida.

JACOB CANSLER PATTON. Born in Dysartsville, McDowell County, N. C., Feb. 8, '53. Studied law in '77–78. Engaged in private tutoring up to June, '84. "During '80–81 I was Principal of the High School at Savannah, Mo. In June following I returned to Boston. Here and in Cambridge I remained till October, when I went to San Francisco to prepare a pupil for college. While in California I also taught Latin and Greek in the Berkeley Gymnasium for five months. In July, '82, I again set my face eastward and journeyed in that direction, making some pleasant stops of several days' duration in Kansas, Missouri, and Pennsylvania, and arrived the last of August in Cambridge. For the next nine months I was engaged in tutoring Freshmen at Cambridge. In the Summer of '83 I spent seven weeks in Western North Carolina, my old home. Returned to Boston in the Fall and became tutor to the sons of Gen. S. M. Weld, of Dedham, Mass. This position I retained till Summer, when I again went to North Carolina for eight weeks. Last September I found myself once more in Cambridge. I then joined the Harvard Law School, where I am now, having thus returned to my first love — the law. I had the misfortune to lose by death my baby, Robert Sidney (born April 24, '80), Feb. 26, '81, and my wife (née Annie Beatrice Cameron), five months later, July 30." Present address: 7 Thayer Hall, Cambridge.

ARTHUR PERRIN. Born in Brighton (now part of Boston), Sept. 17, '56. Address: Cambridge, Mass.

MATTHEW VASSAR PIERCE. Born in Boston, Aug. 6, '55. "Married June 24, '80, to Margaret Gray Whitten, of Dorchester. After leaving Harvard Medical School in '80, spent about two years in study, mostly in Vienna, Heidelberg, and Berlin. Returned home in the Spring of '82. Settled at once in Milton, Mass., where I am at present and am likely to remain. Roger Pierce was born July 8, '82." Address: Milton, Mass.

CHARLES EDWIN PRIOR. Born on Seavy's Island, a part of Kittery, Me., Aug. 24, '55. Entered Harvard Medical School in '79 and graduated in '82. Member Massachusetts Medical Society, Aug. 12, '81. Censor of same, Middlesex Eastern District, from June, '83, to time of transfer to Norfolk District. No public office. Vice-president Blaine and Logan club of Holbrook, and active in campaign on Republican side. Member Union Medical and Surgical Association (henceforth Norfolk East Dist. Mass. Med. Soc.). Married Fannie Mabel Mitchell, Oct. 2, '83. Wife's father, Geo. L., mother, Harriet A. (maiden name, Gray). One daughter, Ethel Marie, born Aug. 12, '84; died Sept. 1, '84. Address: Holbrook, Mass.

JOHN KELVEY RICHARDS. Born in Ironton, Ohio, March 15, '56. "Read law from Sept., '77, to Oct., '79, under John Hamilton, and Hon. W. W. Johnson, both of Ironton, Ohio. Admitted at Columbus by Supreme Court, Oct. 7, '79. Began practising law at Ironton. From Dec., '80, till Jan., '82, I was prosecuting attorney of Lawrence County, Ohio. In the spring of '82 I became a partner of Judge J. J. Hopper, late of the Common Pleas, and remained so, dividing my time between Ironton and Portsmouth, Ohio, at both of which places we had offices till Dec., '83, when, the firm dissolving, I resumed practice alone here at Ironton. A Republican; I have taken part in politics in a local way, writing, speaking, etc. I am at present City Solicitor, elected as a Republican." Address: Ironton, Ohio.

CLIFFORD RICHARDSON. Born in Worcester, March 6, '56. After graduation, in Germany six months; on United States Geographical and Geological Survey in Wyoming, three months; since in Washington. "I am First Assistant Chemist to the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. My published writings are contained in the Annual Special Reports of the Department. I am not married." Residence: 1708 H Street, Washington, D. C.

WALTER HILL ROBERTS. Born in Charlestown, Mass., April 22, '55. Studied law after graduation — first year at the Harvard Law School, and afterward with Wade & Brackett, Boston. "Am now associated with John Q. A. Brackett in the practice of law, firm name being Brackett & Roberts, 48 Congress Street, Boston. The copartnership dates back to '80. Married Oct. 25, '83, to Alice Souther Daniels, of Boston. Her parents' names were Charles E. and Frances M. Daniels, of Boston." Address: 48 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.

EBEN WILLARD ROBY. Born in Brighton (now part of Boston), Mass., July 15, '56. Sailed for Europe in '77, the day following Commencement, where he travelled until Nov., '78. On return to New York in Nov., '78, entered the Law School of Columbia College, where he studied for six months, when, in April, '79, a few weeks before the end of the term, he sailed for Havre, France. Was in Europe six months, until November. On arrival in Christiana, was able to congratulate himself that he had visited every capital of Europe. Returned to New York in Nov., '79, and re-entered the Law School, where he graduated in '80. Is now practising law alone. Address: 55 Liberty Street, New York City.

FRANK WALDRON ROLLINS. Born in East Holden, Me., Jan. 23, '53. After graduation, published a newspaper in Abington, Mass., in company with Rusk, till April, '78; sold out, and taught High School in North Abington till April, '79. From Sept., '79, to June, '80, taught High School at Great Falls, N. H. Married Dec. 25, '79, in Abington, Mass., to Ellen Ware King, of Abington. "In July, '80, I went on the editorial staff of the Boston Commercial Bulletin, of which I became, in Jan., '81, the managing editor, a position I retained till July, '84, when I started a paper of my own in Abington and South Abington — the Plymouth County Courier in the latter place, and the Abing- ton Herald in the former. Here I am likely to remain. No degrees, honors, or appointments; no books or pamphlets published; no articles except regular editorial work; have taken some part in local politics, and have made a few political speeches, and a couple of addresses on the tariff — one with Harvey N. Shepard, Esq., of Boston, before the Cereal Club of Boston, and one with Dr. J. L. Laughlin, of Harvard College, before the Paint and Oil Club of Boston; have joined the Masons. In the Fall, '81, I spent three months in Atlanta, Ga., and wrote for the Bulletin the only consecutive series of articles written for a Boston paper on that industrial eye-opener for the South — the Cotton Exposition. Have written some for the Boston Daily Advertiser. Children: Helen, born Dec. 22, '81; Harriet, born March 22, '83." Address: Abington or South Abington, Mass.

GEORGE ROUNTREE. Born in Kinston, N. C., July 7, '55. When last heard from he was practising law in firm of Loftin & Rountree, Kinston, N. C.

FRANK THOMAS RUSK. Born in Woodford County, Ky., June 9, '54. After graduation, edited, with Rollins, the Plymouth County Journal, at Abington, Mass.; in '78–79 was at the Harvard Law School; in the Fall of '79 went abroad and remained two years in Paris. "I am now principal of the St. Joseph High School; unmarried, childless." Address: cor. 9th and Felix Streets, St. Joseph, Missouri.

WILLIAM EUSTIS RUSSELL. Born in Cambridge, Jan. 6, '57. In June, '79, he received the degree of LL. B., summa cum laude, from Law School of Boston University. In June, '79, won the Lawrence prize for the best essay in his class on "Foreign Judgments; their Extra-territorial Force and Effect;" also, on Commencement Day, '79, of the Law School, delivered in Tremont Temple a class oration. Admitted to the Suffolk County Bar, April Term, '80. Since last report has been practising law as a member of the firm of C. T. & T. H. Russell, Boston. In the Fall of '81 was elected a member of the Common Council, Cambridge; in '82 and '83 was elected a member of the Board of Aldermen, Cambridge, and in '84 Mayor of Cambridge, which position he now holds. In June, '84, was chosen President of the Alumni of the Law School of Boston University. Took an active interest in the presidential campaign of '84, stumping Middlesex County for Cleveland. At present is President of the Middlesex County Democratic Club. Married June 3, '85, at Cambridge, by Rev. Edward H. Hall, to Margaret Manning, daughter of Joshua A. and Sarah Hodges Swan. Has written nothing except in the line of professional and official duties. Address: Cambridge, Mass.

GODFREY RYDER. Born in Provincetown, Mass., July 16, '54. Graduated at Harvard Medical School in '80. "Spent two years at London, Vienna, and Berlin pursuing medical studies with other '77 men. Became Clinical Medical Clerk at London Hospital, E. C., and a temporary House Surgeon there, after which I returned to Malden, where I have since been practising medicine. Appointed lecturer on Microscopy and Histology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Boston, Jan. 1, '85. Expect for the present to reside in Malden," his present address.

FRANKLIN HAVEN SARGENT. Born in Boston, Mass., March 31, '56. Writes: "Went abroad Summer of '77; entered Boston University School of Oratory in Fall of '77, where I graduated in '79; immediately after began reading in public and teaching elocution and pantomime, studying at the same time under various elocutionists in Boston and New York. In June, '80, appointed an Instructor in Elocution in Harvard University. During my stay (two years) in Cambridge I was largely engaged in training stock-actors and leading professionals in Boston and New York theatres as a specialist in pantomime, particularly in the productions of the 'Œdipus Tyrannus' and of 'Romeo and Juliet,' 'Pygmalion and Galatea,' etc. In Aug., '82, appointed Dramatic Director of the Madison Square Theatre, New York City. During my connection with this theatre I travelled with various theatrical companies throughout the United States, and in June and July, '83, visited all the principal theatres and dramatic schools in Germany, Paris, and London. I resigned from the Madison Square Theatre, May 1, '84, and entered into an agreement with the proprietors of the Lyceum Theatre, New York, to found a School of Dramatic Art. This school, called the 'Lyceum Theatre School of Acting,' under the associate management of Steele MacKay, F. H. Sargent, and Gustavo Fichman, is now in successful progress. My writings have been limited to short newspaper and magazine articles, notably in the Voice (May, June, and July numbers of '84), and in The Century magazine, July '84, on 'Dramatic Schools and the Science of Dramatic Training.'" Address: The Lyceum Theatre, New York.

ROBERT SIDOINE SAUZADE. Born in New York City, Dec. 12, '54. After graduation he held an important position in the Midland Improvement Company, 22 Nassau Street, New York City. Is now a member of the New York Stock Exchange. Address: 70 Broadway, New York City.

GEORGE AUGUSTUS SAWYER. Born in Roxbury (now Boston Highlands), Mass., May 25, '57. Commenced studying law immediately after graduation. Taught school during the Winter of '77-78, in Hollis, N. H. Resumed the study of law in the Spring with Hon. Benjamin Dean, Boston. Was two years at the Boston Law School. "Was admitted to Suffolk County Bar in Oct., '80, and have since been practising law in Boston and Cambridge, having an office at 28 State Street, Boston. Was a member of Cambridge Common Council during '84. Was married June 18, '84, to Florence E. Ellis, daughter of J. Russell and Emmeline S. Ellis, of Cambridge." Address: 54 North Avenue, Cambridge, Mass.

WILLIAM SHEPARD SEAMANS. Born in Brookline, Mass., Dec. 27, '54. Took an M. D. at College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, in the Spring of '81. Member of N. Y. Co. Medical Society, Manhattan Medical and Surgical Society, and Harvard Club. Married Nov. 27, '83, to Helen P. Woodbury, daughter of Freeman P. and Harriet McGaw Woodbury, by the Rev. Dr. W. M. Taylor. "After receiving my degree I served one year at the colored hospital on 65th Street, New York City. Have held medical positions at the N. Y. Foundling Asylum and N. Y. post-graduate school, and at present time am one of the visiting physicians to the Metropolitan Throat Hospital, Demilt Dispensary (children's class), and assistant at the Children's Clinic of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. I am one of the medical examiners at the home office of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and the National Petroleum Exchange." Address: 71 East 55th Street, New York City.

THOMAS FOSTER SHERMAN. Born in Boston, March 17, '56. "I graduated from Harvard Medical School with the degree of M. D. in '80. I then received the appointment of Medical House Officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital, and there spent, with Hodges and Swift, both of '77, one of the pleasantest years that I have passed since leaving college. After leaving the Hospital I spent four months as House Officer in the Lying-in Hospital, and then began to practise medicine for myself, opening an office at 464 Shawmut Avenue, where I still remain. Was admitted a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society in '80, and of the Boston Society for Medical Observation in '83; member of the Massachusetts Charitable Fire Society in '84. Delivered a course of emergency lectures to policemen in '84, and was appointed District Dispensary Physician in '85." Address: 464 Shawmut Avenue, Boston, Mass.

CHARLES CARROLL SHIPPEN. Born in Philadelphia, Oct. 29, '56. Studied medicine in Baltimore from Aug., '77, to Aug., '79, when he was appointed Resident Physician in the Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia. Went abroad in June, '81; spent the following Winter in Vienna, and returned in Nov., '82. Went abroad again in Sept., '83, and returned in June, '84. Is now practising medicine in Baltimore. Address: 139 North Charles Street, Baltimore, Maryland.

THOMAS MORRISON SLOANE. Born in Sandusky, Ohio, July 28, '54. Writes: "My first year out of college was spent in a law office ; the Summer in travelling, and, in Oct., '78, I entered the Law School of the University of Michigan, and graduated from there in March, '80. In Nov., '79, I was elected 'historian' of my class. Received degree of LL. B. at Ann Arbor in March, '80 ; admitted to the Ohio Bar in the following May. Reside at Sandusky, Erie County, Ohio, and have been practising law since. June 22, '81, I was married at Sandusky to Sarah Maria Caswell Cooke, daughter of Pitt and Mary E. Cooke. Revs. L. S. Osborne (Harvard, '73) and E. Jay Cooke (Harvard Episcopal Theological School, '72) officiated. C. S. Eaton and J. B. Keyes, Harvard, '77, were ushers at our wedding. The Summer of '81, my wife and I made an extended trip through the Eastern States and Canadas. We also spent the Spring months of '83 in travelling, and in the Summer of that year journeyed to the far Northwest, via the then uncompleted Northern Pacific Railroad, the guests of an uncle, Mr. C. B. Wright, of Philadelphia. Our party, consisting of twelve ladies and gentlemen, left Chicago in Mr. Wright's private car, July 19, and travelled in it as far as Helena, Montana, where we took a tally-ho coach for the trip across the Rocky Mountains, the railroad not being finished. We, of course, followed the regular stage road, but having our own conveyance were not hurried, and took our time to enjoy the magnificent scenery of that grand mountain country. At the end of track on other side of mountains we were met by a special train of Pullman cars, in which we rode to Portland, Oregon, as the guests of the Oregon River & Navigation Railroad. From Portland we went north to Tacoma on Puget Sound, thence to Victoria, Vancouver's Island ; thence up the Frazer River, British Columbia, and up along the coast. Without going into detail, we thoroughly visited that whole country, and accomplished one of the most remarkable journeys it has ever been my fortune to take in this country or abroad. Met LeMoyne, '78, at Little Missouri, Montana. He is engaged in 'booming' a town near that place. Met Hitchcock, '77, on a steamer on Columbia River, and while in Portland was entertained by Jack Bourne, who is a rising attorney of that growing city. In April, '83, I was elected President of the Sandusky City Council, and am still occupying that position. Have written some for the newspapers. Oct. 25, '84, a boy was born to us." Address: Sandusky, Erie County, Ohio.

WILLIAM HENRY SMILEY. Born in village of Maplewood, Malden, Mass., April 28, '54. Was Master of New Salem Academy, Franklin County, Mass., in '80. Since then has gone West. Address (last given): Denver, Col.

ABBOT EDES SMITH. Born in West Cambridge (now Arlington), Mass., Sept. 20, '55. In April, '78, removed to Lake City, Minnesota, and engaged in the business of loaning money. Read law, and in April, '83, passed a successful examination before the Minnesota Supreme Court and was admitted to the Bar. Is a member of the Bar of the United States courts and also of the Minnesota State Bar Association. Has for some time been the attorney of the Lake City Bank. "On Aug. 12, '84, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Dr. Edgar Palmer, of La Crosse, Wis., was married to Alice M. Prouty of Newport, Vt. The names of my wife's parents are Roswell Prouty and Laura Prouty, whose maiden name was Baldwin. Last Summer I was chosen President of the Lake City Blaine and Logan club, and in the Autumn I was nominated by the Republicans of my district as candidate for District Attorney. After an active campaign in a strongly Democratic district, I was defeated by a small majority. * * * In closing I will state that we have a flourishing Harvard Club here in Minnesota, which recently indulged in a second annual dinner at Minneapolis." Address: Lake City, Minnesota.

DANIEL ELIJAH SMITH. Born in Quincy, Mass., Aug. 5, '52. "In June, '79, I was licensed to preach by the Essex North Association, at Merrimac, Mass. The same year that I left college, I joined the Seminary connected with Yale College. I went from New Haven to Andover. My present address is 404 North 38th Street, West Philadelphia, where I have been since Aug. 1, '84. I am employed as short-hand clerk in a grocery and commission house of this city. Previous to this, as you may be aware, I was preaching in Robbinston, Me., but indifferent health compelled me to make a change in my work, which thus far has been for the better." Address as above.

FRANK WEBSTER SMITH. Born in Lincoln, Mass., June 27, '54. Writes: "As stated in the last report, I spent the first three years after graduation teaching in the South. The last sentence of the report would indicate that I had returned North for good; but this is not the case, for I was destined for another year of work in the same place in which I had been engaged before. So the Fall of '80 found me at work again in theschool at Atlanta, where I now devoted my time chiefly to Greek and Mathematics. At the close of this year I returned to Cambridge, and took a post-graduate course, giving the larger part of my time to classical Philology, but doing considerable work, also, in Political Economy, which is a favorite subject with me, and a very little work otherwise. At the end of my first year of study I took the degree of A. M., and became a candidate for the degree of Ph. D., but have not yet finished the work necessary for that degree, and have withdrawn from candidacy for the present. During a part of my last year of study I taught in one of the evening grammar schools in Boston, where Rollins of our class was Principal, and found it a pretty rough place. In the Fall of '83 I was appointed to the position of classical teacher in the Westfield (Mass.) State Normal School. Here students receive training in 'natural methods,' calculated to lead them to teach and not merely to 'keep school.' In such an atmosphere I am coming to have a wider knowledge of, and to follow out more thoroughly, the common-sense principles which underlie all sound training. During the Summer vacation at the end of my first year here I took a short trip abroad. I crossed Ireland from south to north, taking in a few interesting places on the route; spent a little more than two weeks in Scotland, devoting a portion of this time to the beautiful Highlands and the rugged western coast, and spent about the same amount of time in England and Paris together. On returning, I began another year of work here, where the present writing still finds me." Address: Westfield, Mass.

EDMUND BURKE SPRAGUE. Born in Stoneham, Mass., Jan. 27, '55. After graduation passed two years in the Harvard Law School, and then studied in the office of Potter & Manning, Worcester, Mass. Was admitted to the Bar in March, '80, and "I continued practising law in Worcester until the last of Nov., '84, when an attack of nervous prostration and pulmonary disease rendered me unfit to attend to business. For about a year, Henry W. King was in copartnership with me as Sprague & King. Beginning July 1, of this year, Charles B. Perry will carry on the business in my absence, under the firm name of Sprague & Perry. It is my intention to go to Colorado for my health." Address: Haverhill, Mass., care of Mary P. Sprague, or Worcester, Mass., Walker's Block.

BENJAMIN CHARLES STARR. Born in Westmoreland, N. H., July 1, '48. Writes to the Secretary as follows: "The circulars, etc., which you send me at 120 Bolivar Street, have long imposed upon a personal friend the burden of forwarding them to me, a proper appreciation of which would have long since caused me to request, as I now do, that whenever in the discharge of your duty as Secretary it may be necessary to address me, you do so either at 8 Blackstone or 180 Clinton Street, Cleveland, Ohio."

* JOSHUA STETSON. Born in Boston, June 4, '55. Died in Naples, Italy, March, '79. Obituary in class report of '80, signed by "B. W."

JAMES ARTHUR STILES. Born in Fitchburg, Mass., Sept. 1, '55. Residence, Gardner; business, lawyer, practising with Edward P. Pierce, at Fitchburg and Gardner. Commenced practice in Aug., '80, after studying in the office of Torrey & Bailey. Appointed May 8, '84, Trial Justice; appointed June 11, '84, Senior Special Justice 1st District Court of Northern Worcester. Has taken some interest in local politics. Address: Box 1626, Fitchburg, Mass.

MAYNARD FRENCH STILES. Born in Tunbridge, Vt., May 7, '54 After graduation spent a year and a half in Vermont and then studied law in Boston till the Spring of '80. "Went to Denver, Col., April 10, '80, and from there in company with an uncle, B. B. Stiles, of Denver, and others to Irwin (Ruby Camp), Gunnison County, at that time a recently discovered mining country in the Ute Indian Reservation; making the trip by horse team with camp outfit in three weeks, and encountering all the hardships incident to such a journey across the frontier. Engaged in practice of law and in mining operations in company with B. B. Stiles during Summer, returning to Denver in October of same year. Taught school in Denver during Winter and returned to Irwin in June, '81, and resumed practice of law. Was nominated Mayor of Ruby in July, '80, but declined, being ineligible on account of too short residence in the State. Was elected Police Judge of Irwin in '81, re-elected in '83 and in '85. Appointed Deputy County Assessor in '83, reappointed in '84, and appointed City Attorney for Irwin in '84. Have spent part of each year prospecting and exploring Ute Reservation, meeting with the adventures that are part of the life of the border man, and acquiring notoriety as a bear killer. Have taken part as a Democrat in local and county politics and in all matters of public importance and concern. Was delegate to National Silver Convention at Denver, Feb., '85, and have written articles on Coinage for Elk Mountain Pilot, and been an occasional contributor to other county papers. Was married by Rev. Dr. Hart, to Ella S. Field, of Chicago, at Gunnison, Colorado, May 27, '84." Address: Irwin, Gunnison County, Colorado.

DEXTER LYMAN STONE. Born in Wilmington, Vt., June 16, '53. Principal of the Wilmington (Vt.) High School, '77–78. Studied law, and admitted to the Bar in Windham County, Vt., Sept. 12, '79. Went to Philadelphia, Oct. 1, '79, where, for some time, he practised law, and was agent for the Provident Life and Trust Company, of Philadelphia. Later, was General Agent of this company for Vermont and New Hampshire. Married Feb. 20, '78, to Ama J. Miller, of Philadelphia. "I am in business in New York, with an office at 72 Franklin Street. Am travelling a good portion of the time. I have one daughter nearly 4½ years old. I lost an infant daughter (Calista Miller Stone) in Nov., '82. She was born June 13, '82. My address: 18 East 28th Street, New York, N. Y."

[WASHINGTON] IRVING STRINGHAM. Born Dec. 10, '47, near the village of Yorkshire Centre, N. Y. Spent Summer of '77 in Paris. From Oct., '77, till Christmas, resident graduate student at Harvard. Assistant on the American Journal of Mathematics, at Baltimore, from Jan., '78, till Oct., '79. Appointed Fellow (in mathematics) of the Johns Hopkins University, June 1, '78. Has written various articles on subjects of the higher mathematics, which have been published in the Proceedings of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and in the American Journal of Mathematics. Has also read a number of mathematical papers before the Mathematical Seminary and the Scientific Association of the J. H. U. Received the degree of Ph. D. at the Johns Hopkins University in June, '80. Resigned the Fellowship in mathematics in June, '80, in order to accept the appointment to a Parker Fellowship in Harvard University, which position he held for two years, residing chiefly in Germany. Studied three semesters at Leipzig, and was there a member of Prof. Kleim's mathematisches seminar. Spent the two Summer vacations in the village of Schwarzbach, on the Mulde, near Rochlitz, in Saxony. In the Spring of '82, travelled through the Rhine countries as far south as Freiburg; passed through France to the Island of Jersey, where he taught mathematics in Victoria College for two weeks, temporarily supplying the place of a friend. Accepted, about this time, the appointment to the chair of mathematics in the University of California. Spent a month in Jersey, two weeks in the South of England, one week in London; returned to America in July, and assumed the duties of the mathematical professorship at Berkeley, early in Aug., '82, which position he still holds. In Aug., '84, attended the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Montreal, and in September the meeting of the American Association at Philadelphia. Read two mathematical papers before the latter association. Has written various articles on subjects of the higher mathematics, which have been published in mathematical periodicals. Not married. Address: P. O. box 100, Berkeley, Cal.

EDWARD HENRY STROBEL. Born in Charleston, S. C., Dec. 7, '55. Spent the first year after graduation in Harvard Law School. Left at the beginning of the second year on account of his health, and spent the Winter in the South. Returned to Cambridge in May. From Oct, '80, to Nov., '81, travelled in Central and Southern Europe. The next Winter he spent in Cambridge, and took degree at the Harvard Law School in June, '82. "I then came to New York, was engaged in a law office during the Winter and admitted to the Bar in June, '83. The following three months I travelled in Northern Europe, and on my return to New York I undertook the practice of my profession, and have persisted to the present time. I have written some newspaper articles, and published a political pamphlet during the last presidential campaign." Has just been appointed Secretary of the Legation of the United States at Madrid, which will be his address.

LINDSAY SWIFT. Born in Boston, July 29, '56. Writes: "The October following graduation I went into the composing-room of Rand, Avery & Company, and there learned the rudiments of the printing trade and of proof-reading, which have been of great assistance to me in my work at the Boston Public Library. Have written a few letters to newspapers and several short notes, and a book review to The Nation. I am still at the Boston Public Library, where I first went in May, '78. On the 29th of July, '81, I was married by the Rev. A. H. Plumb, of Roxbury, to Katharine Agnese Jackson, daughter of Nicholas and Mary Jackson, of Abington, Mass. We have one child, Katharine Lindsay Swift, who was born April 25, '83. Absorbed as I am in quiet and congenial work in a large library, I have little to tell of any reception of professional honors or public offices, but have remained an entirely private citizen, except that during the last presidential election I took a somewhat active though inconspicuous part in the campaign on the Republican side. My literary work for the most part has been restricted to Bibliography in the Public Library, especially as editor of its quarterly Bulletin. I have contributed some articles to newspapers, one to The Nation, and am the author of 'A Catalogue of the Works relating to Benjamin Franklin' (Boston, 1883); of a paper on Thomas Carlyle in the supplement of Encyclopædia Britannica (Vol. I., 1883); and also of a pamphlet on 'Election Sermons in Massachusetts,' which I am about to publish." Residence at present, Dale Street, Roslindale, Boston. Permanent address: 23 Circuit Street, Roxbury, Mass.

WILLIAM NYE SWIFT. Born in New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 1, '54. Graduated from Harvard Medical School in '80; was afterwards Medical House Officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital, then went to Europe, and has been practising medicine in New Bedford since Jan., '83. Holds the office of City Physician. Married in New Bedford by Rev. William J. Potter, Feb. 18, '81, to Anna Hathaway, daughter of Francis and Susan S. Hathaway. Children: Hester W., born July 6, '82; Francis H., born June 8, '84. Address: New Bedford, Mass.

GERRIT SMITH SYKES. Born in Mercer, Penn., July 15, '52. After graduation remained some time in Cambridge. In '79 went abroad. Is joint proprietor with White, '77, of the Walnut Hills School, in Cincinnati. Married in June, '82, to Annie Gooding of Brookline, Mass. Has one child, a daughter, born in Aug., '84. Address: Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, O.

* ROBERT TALLANT. Born in San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 29, '56. Died in Spring of '84. The class, on Commencement Day, will adopt proper resolutions of respect to his memory.

FRANK HENDRICKSON TAYLOR. Born in Cincinnati, O., Nov. 20, '55. Writes: "In the Fall of '77, I began to study starch-making in the capacity of a laborer, and advanced in my calling until Jan. 1, '80, when I was elected General Superintendent of all the works of the George Fox Starch Manufacturing Company in Cincinnati, O. My health failing from the effects of overwork and the unhealthy location of the factories, I resigned my position Jan., '81, and accepted the offer of a wholesale dry-goods house in Cincinnati. Finding this business quite unsuited to my tastes, I removed to Philadelphia, Pa., in Feb., '82; and, after aiding in the incorporation of the Manly & Cooper Manufacturing Company, for the manufacture of ornamental wrought-iron and steel work, I was elected their Secretary and Treasurer, and still hold that position. I was married at 12th Street Meeting-House, in Philadelphia, by Friends' ceremony, March 31, '80, to Rebecca M., daughter of William H. and Sarah Whitall Nicholson, of Philadelphia. We have two children: William Nicholson, born at Cincinnati, Jan. 22, '82; and Frank Carroll, born at Philadelphia, Nov. 22, '84. Residence, 3304 Baring Street; office, 42d Street and Elm Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa."

WILLIAM REUBEN TAYLOR. Born in Jefferson, N. Y., May 6, '52. Writes: "In due course of time after graduation, I became a member of the Massachusetts Bar. Not finding it, however, irresistibly seductive to linger away long days in a poorly equipped and totally unfrequented office, I came to the conclusion that the practice of the law was but a poor calling after all, petty and exacting in its methods, and wholly unworthy a man of spirit. I now never enter a law office unless to see my less plucky friends or classmates. In place of the plodding and laborious practice of the law, I plunged (and am still plunging) into the highly honorable and agreeably stimulating diversion of stock gambling, and life has been an unbroken holiday ever since, with some few exceptions, however. Am chagrined to have to say that I am still a bachelor and childless, and in this regard am hapless and unsatisfied, but promise to record in the next report a wife and at least three children, all with names in full. No degrees or honors received, no books or pamphlets published, a roaring Mugwump without office, travels unworthy of mention, laboriously performed, and confined exclusively to this country." Address: 41 Somerset Street, Boston, Mass.

EDWARD FULLER THOMAS. Born in Palmyra, Portage County, Ohio, May 29, '55. During the year '77–78 was Master of the East Grammar School, Watertown, Mass. In '78–79 was Principal of the High School, Van Wert, Ohio. In '80 taught Mathematics and the Sciences in the High School in Quincy, Ill. Studied law at the office of General T. W. Sanderson in Youngstown from '80 until '83, and was admitted to practice, May, '83. Address: Room E, Wick Block, Youngstown, Ohio.

WILLIAM HOPKINS TILLINGHAST. Born in New Bedford, Mass., March 20, '54. Writes: "Spent a term and a half in Cambridge, as a resident graduate; then my eyes broke down. I went abroad in July, '78, where I attended lectures at Berlin for four terms. As I was not able to bear severe application, my work was desultory. Aug., '78, I spent in Dresden. In the Spring of '79 I visited Prague, Vienna, Munich, Regensburg, etc. In the Summer I spent four weeks walking in Switzerland, went up and down the Rhine, and recuperated delightfully at Eisenach, idling, eating plums, and reading Rectoni's Bibleothek. In the Spring of '80 I started alone for Italy; met four acquaintances at Munich, and on leaving Venice took an unexpected trip to Athens by an Austrian Lloyd boat from Trieste, stopping at Corfu and Syra; passed ten days in Athens, and took Wassagerie steamer to Naples. This was a thoroughly successful detour, inexpensive and full of pleasure. From Naples returned to Germany via Rome, Florence, etc. In the Summer visited Holland, Paris, London, and sailed from Liverpool in September. On the voyage escaped collision with a sailing vessel by a few yards. Settled in Cambridge in the Fall. In March, '82, I took charge of the ordering department in the College Library, where I still remain. Nov. 24, '84, I was appointed to this position by the corporation. I began work for Ph. D., but my official duties soon took up so much time that I withdrew. For the use of the late Capt. G. V.

Fox, I made an examination of old maps of the Bahamas, and the results were published in the University Bulletin for '81, and as a bibliographical contribution, No. 14, under the title 'Historical Hydrography of the Handkerchief Shoal in the Bahamas.' I have also prepared a translation of Carl Ploetz, 'Auszug der Geschichte,' to which I added about a third more new matter. It was published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., in March, '84, under the title 'Epitome of the Ancient, Mediæval, and Modern History.' A second edition has appeared. I have also written for The Nation. Jan. 12, '85, I was appointed editor of the Quinquennial Catalogue for '85, for the successful prosecution of which labor the prayers of the class are earnestly requested. By vote of the Overseers have attempted to give a fuller list of the early Fellows and Tutors than is contained in any preceding catalogue. My residence is Cambridge, though I am boarding for the Spring and Summer at Arlington Heights. I have received no degree since my A. B.; am a member of the Harvard Historical Society, and one of the original members of the American Historical Association. I may remark, in this connection, that I have for some time now made an especial study of early Cartography. I was married on Dec. 8, '80, by Rev. M. J. Potter, of New Bedford, to Emma Grace Akin, daughter of William Lyman and Emily Ford Akin, at the house of the bride's father, in New York City. We have two children: Ruby, born Jan. 20, '83; and Harold Morton, born July 18, '84." Address: Harvard College Library, Cambridge, Mass.

AUGUSTUS CLIFFORD TOWER. Born in North Cambridge (now Arlington), Mass., July 3, '53. Writes: "Address and business unchanged since last report. Married on June 7, '83, to Louisa Greble Dreer, of Philadelphia, Pa., at Geneva, Switzerland. Now living at Lawrence, L. I. Became a member of the firm of Edward Sweet & Co., whose office I entered Sept. 7, '77, on Jan. 1, '83." Address: 38 Broad Street, New York.

GEORGE PIERCE TWITCHELL. Born in Keene, N. H., May 2, '55. "Having completed a four-years' course at the Harvard Medical School, I began the practice of my profession, and for the last three years have been located at 3 Union Park, Boston, my present address."

WILLIAM LANCE DOW TWOMBLY. Born in Lowell, Mass., Nov. 12, '50. Remained at home from the Fall of '77 till Spring of '78. Then moved with parents to South Boston, where he stayed till Sept., '79, when he took charge of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Falmouth, Mass. "My health, for the last five years, has been such as to prevent my continuing my studies. I have preached occasionally, and have assisted my father in the practical work of the churches with which he has been connected. I have also attended to a little business. I am at present supplying preaching to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Howville, Fitzwilliams, N. H." Address: Box 95, Gardner, Mass.

JOHN FORD TYLER. Born in East Cambridge, Nov. 18, '56. Oct. 1, '77, to Aug. 1, '78, studied law in the office of L. Marrett, East Cambridge; then entered Harvard Law School. "In the latter part of '80, I went to Northampton, Mass., where I was in the office of Bond Bros. & Bottum until the following April, when I was admitted to the Bar. I remained in the same office as clerk rather more than a year, and then returned to Cambridge, where I am practising law. I am not married. My address is either at my residence, 13 Shepard Street, Cambridge, or at my office, 97 Cambridge Street, East Cambridge, Mass."

CALEB BROOKS UNDERHILL. Born in South Malden (now Everett), Mass., July 10, '55. Writes: "I finished my study at the Harvard Medical School in '80. In July, '80, I received the appointment of House Officer in the Ophthalmic Department of the Boston City Hospital, and at once began my work there. In June, '81, rapidly failing health obliged me to resign my office at the Hospital and I came to Colorado. For six months I knocked about this State, gradually gaining in strength and health. Finally I have settled in the city of Salida, a place of 3000 people, and an excellent climate. I am now engaged in the practice of medicine and surgery. I have been elected a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Colorado State Medical Society, the Colorado State Meteorological Society, and have received the appointment of Surgeon to the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad." Address: Salida, Colorado.

CHARLES JAMES UNDERWOOD, JR. Born in Boston, May 11, '54. "Beyond a limited stay in the coal and iron region of the Hocking Valley, Ohio, in the service of the Hocking Iron Co., I have passed most of my time, since my first report to you, here in Boston. Am at present engaged in the rubber business at No. 264 Devonshire Street, and am the Boston agent of the Fairfield Rubber Co." Address: 119 Newbury Street, Boston.

Louise Cynthia Upton, of Fitchburg. Children: Frederick Wallace, born Aug. 14, '80; Rodney Wallace, Jr., born Dec. 24, '82; twins born in May, '85. Address: Fitchburg, Mass.

EDWARD WINSLOW WARREN. Born in New York City, Oct. 1, '55. "After finishing my regular work in Medical School, I took the extra fourth year, and then ('81) went abroad to continue my studies. I worked two Winters in Vienna, returning in time for Commencement, '83, when I received my M. D., and also an A. M. on the extra year in the Medical School. Since then I have been practising at 84 Charles Street, Boston. July 1, '84, I was appointed as District Physician of Boston Dispensary. I have written nothing except certain cases which I reported before the Massachusetts Medical Society, and which appear in their reports in Massachusetts Medical and Surgical Journal." Address: 84 Charles Street, Boston, Mass.

EDWARD WELLINGTON. Born in Waltham, Mass., Dec. 9, '55. Writes: "I am a farmer at Waltham, Mass. Was married in the Swedenborgian Church, in Waltham, by Rev. John Worcester, to Mary, daughter of Benjamin and Mary C. Worcester, Nov. 22, '82. Have two children: Elizabeth Mary, born Sept. 4, '83; Richard, born Oct. 10, '84." Address: Waltham, Mass.

BENJAMIN WILLIS WELLS. Born in Walpole, Mass., Jan. 31, '56. "After graduation, I studied two years in Berlin, and on my return, took the degree of Ph. D. at Harvard. Since then I have been a Fellow at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, and an Instructor in modern languages in Friends' School, Providence, R. I., which is my present address. I married July 3, '83, Lena Lyman, of Orange, N. J., and have one son, Frederic Lyman Wells, born April 20, '84." Address as above.

Greenough, of Quincy, Mass. In Oct., '80, I was appointed Instructor in English at Harvard. Thereupon, with much satisfaction, I gave up the study of the law. Circumstances compelled me to resign my office at Harvard in the Spring of '81. The following year, when I had no ostensible occupation, I wrote a novel, which nobody would publish. In the Autumn of '82, I was once more appointed Instructor in English at Harvard. I have held my office ever since. In '84 I wrote another novel, 'The Duchess Emilia,' which is now (March, '85) about to be published. I passed the Summer of '80 in Europe. In '84 I conducted the Harvard examinations in Chicago, and stayed there to see the Democratic Convention. I have made no other journeys. I have two children: Barrett Wendell, born April 19, '81; and Mary Barrett Wendell, born Feb. 17, '83." Address: 358 Marlborough Street, Boston.

EDWARD GRAEFF WEST. Born in Philadelphia, Jan. 3, '55. "In the Fall of '79 held the position of 2d Assistant Physician at the Tewksbury Almshouse. Since the Spring of '80, I served a month or more in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General Hospital under Dr. Homans, and in June, '80, received my degree of M. D. from the Harvard Medical School, and immediately commenced practising my profession at 633 Warren Street, Grove Hall, Roxbury, a part of Boston. In the Spring and Summer of '82 I built a cottage at 630 Warren Street, where I have practised since. On Oct. 26, of the same year, I wedded Eliza Isabelle Elliot, of Exeter, N. H., whose father is Mr. Edmund Elliot, of Exeter, and whose mother was Eliza Elliot née Gilman, the granddaughter of John Phillips, who founded Phillips Exeter Academy. Rev. Mr. B. F. McDaniels, of Exeter, officiated. Upon establishing myself, I joined the Norfolk branch of the Massachusetts Medical Society, Oct. 18, '80. I am a member of the Latin School Association of Alumni. In June, '80, I was raised to the degree of Master Mason in the Star of the East Lodge, No. 59, of Exeter, N. H., where I am still a member. In Jan., '83, I accepted the appointment as Medical Examiner of the Equitable Mutual Relief Society of Boston, which I still hold. In July, '83, I joined the A. O. U. W., an insurance association, and was appointed one of their Medical Examiners. In Feb., '85, I accepted the position of Examining Surgeon of the Massachusetts Mutual Accident Association. As to articles, etc., published, I have had under my care, and after successful treatment, reported to the Norfolk District Medical Society a rare and malignant case of epithelioma of the conjunctiva, which was published in the Boston Medical Surgical Journal. Also, a very rare case of extra uterine pregnancy, which was successfully treated with the assistance of Drs. Chadwick and Berlin. Another very rare case of myxœdema, the second to come to an autopsy in this country. I was invited to read it before the section for clinical medicine, pathology, and hygiene of the Suffolk District Medical Society, and it is published in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, July 17, '84, with a report of the autopsy by Drs. Fritz and Whiting. I have made and reported one or two inventions, especially an internal angular splint." Address: 630 Warren Street, Boston, Mass.

Adjourned.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE NINTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 29, 1881 (Commencement Day), in Holworthy 14. The Secretary's annual report of the class finances was read and accepted. It was unanimously voted to be the sense of the class that a sum not exceeding $2,000 of the College Fund should be used for placing a class window in Memorial Hall. Marshall Cutler, Wm. E. Russell, and John Louis Du Fais were appointed a committee to make all necessary arrangements.

Adjourned. WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

NOTE. — To carry out the above vote of the class, the following circular was mailed to every subscriber to the College Fund.

CAMBRIDGE, July 22, 1881.

Dear Sir, — At a meeting of the class of '77, on last Commencement Day, it was voted unanimously to be the sense of the class, that a sum, not exceeding two thousand dollars of the College Fund, should be used for placing a class window in Memorial Hall. To carry out this wish of the class requires the assent of the individual subscribers, and this letter is accordingly addressed to you, as one of the subscribers, to ask such assent. The fund, as the matter now stands, is paid to the treasurer of the college, who uses its income for general expenses. It is strongly desired by the class that part of the money so subscribed, while still retaining its character of a gift to the college, should be devoted to a specific object, so that in the future we may have something to show for the generosity of the class.

You are particularly requested to answer this note, but if no word is received from you to the contrary, within thirty days, the Secretary will assume that you assent to the above request of the class.

As the spaces in Memorial Hall are being rapidly taken, it is necessary to proceed at once in the matter, and to collect of the fund sufficient to meet the required expense. The Secretary, therefore, requests the subscribers to waive the condition of their subscriptions as to time of payment, and to forward as early as possible any unpaid instalments.

Your subscription to the College Fund was . . . . . .
Amount paid . . . . . .
Amount unpaid . . . . . .

Yours truly,

WM. E. RUSSELL, Class Secretary.

The special committee also sent to the members of the class the following report: —

CLASS OF '77.

Your committee, appointed last Commencement to arrange for a class window in Memorial Hall, report as follows: —

The assent of the subscribers to the College Fund, with but one exception, has been obtained to this use of the fund. A place has been secured in Memorial Hall, on condition that the work is commenced without delay. The cost will be $2,000, being the average cost of the windows already erected, and the amount appropriated by the class. Of this amount the Secretary has now on hand $700.

The committee now asks your assistance,—

1. To raise the balance needed.

Not another step can be taken until this is done, as your committee will not assume the responsibility of making contracts for the work till they have the full amount on hand. Subscribers are, therefore, again urged to anticipate the payment of instalments not yet due ; and all who have not subscribed to the College Fund, but who favor the project, are earnestly requested to assist it with contributions. Unless the balance ($1,300) is raised in three months, your committee will be obliged to report that the project must be abandoned.

2. To suggest a subject for the window.

As the choice of a subject is the most delicate and responsible part of the committee's work, they desire the fullest expression of the class with regard to it. A rough design is enclosed, showing the outlines and style of the window, as a basis for your suggestions. To be in harmony with the general plan of the architect, and to meet his acceptance, the subjects must be figures, and of a time not later than Shakespeare's.

Please send subscriptions and suggestions to the class Secretary.

MARSHALL CUTLER,
WM. E. RUSSELL,
JOHN LOUIS DU FAIS,
Committee on Memorial Window.

THE TENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 27, '82, when the class dined together at the Vendome, Boston. Eighty members were present.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE ELEVENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 28, '82 (Commencement Day), in Holworthy 14. The Secretary's annual report of the class finances was read and accepted. Classmate Marshall Cutler submitted to the class a proposition, as follows : That he would assume personally the expense, up to the amount of $2,000, of putting a class window in Memorial Hall, and be reimbursed from the College Fund when collected, there being then on hand over $1,000 collected of said fund ; and in consideration of this he should be allowed to choose the design, make the contract, and all necessary arrangements for the window. It was voted to accept the proposition.

It was further voted that the Secretary obtain in writing the opinion of the class as to having annual, biennial, or triennial class dinners ; but the result of the vote not to prevent the regular triennial dinner in 1883. The Secretary moved that a committee of three be chosen to audit his accounts, and Messrs. Sawyer, Farnsworth, and Parker were chosen as such committee.

Adjourned.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE TWELFTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 26, 1883, when the class dined together at Young's Hotel, Boston. Eighty-nine members were present.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE THIRTEENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 27, 1883, Commencement Day, in Holworthy 14. The Secretary's annual report of the class finances was read and accepted. The Secretary stated that he had obtained, as instructed, the opinion of the class on the subject of annual, biennial, or triennial class dinners. That a decided majority were opposed to annual dinners, but divided between biennial or triennial dinners ; that he should, therefore, unless otherwise instructed, make arrangements for a class dinner in '85, the decennial dinner in '87, and after that, every three years, till the second decennial.

Classmate Cutler, who had in charge the placing of a class window in Memorial Hall, submitted a design (Charlemagne) for one figure of said window, and reported, through Classmate Parker, that he had been delayed in the work by some difficulty with the architect of the hall. At his request, the class adopted the following resolutions : —

WHEREAS, it has come to the knowledge of the class that its representative, empowered to erect a class window, is unable to do so without a practical surrender of all control over the work to the architect of Memorial Hall ; and whereas said representative of the class is unwilling to prosecute the work without being freed from the responsibility for the results of another's action uncontrolled by him :

Voted, That the class hereby request and empower Marshall Cutler, its present representative, to continue the work of the class window to the best of his abilities ; and in view of the foregoing, absolve him from his past responsibility for the results.

Voted, Furthermore, that the class appropriate a still further sum for the window from the College Fund, which shall be equivalent in amount to ten per cent of the cost of such window, and which shall be used in payment of the architect's commission.

The special committee, to audit the Secretary's accounts, reported as follows : —

To the Class of '77:

Your committee, appointed last Commencement, at the request of the class Secretary, to audit his accounts, submit the following report : —

They have made a thorough and careful examination of the books of the Secretary from the date of the last auditing, have verified the balance of each account, and examined and approved the vouchers for the expenses incurred since the previous auditing. They have further verified the trial balance of last June, as follows : —

Class Fund		$10,568 22
College Fund		3 455 30
Expense Account (balances).
Cash Account	$569 03
Investment Account	7,488 49
Income Account (balance credited to Class Fund).
Profit and Loss Account (balance charged to Investment).
* Unpaid subscriptions to both Funds	5,966 00
	$14,023 52	$14,023 52

Your committee have further endeavored to verify the individual subscription accounts by forwarding to each subscriber a statement of his account, with a request to inform the committee whether or not it were correct.

Most of the subscribers have replied, and, with two exceptions, have agreed to the accounts as correct. One subscriber claimed that he had not made a payment with which he was credited, and another that his original subscription was smaller than that shown by the books, but no subscriber has claimed that he has not received credit for all payments made by him.

Your committee have found the amount called for by the balance of the cash account, viz., $569.03, on deposit in banks deemed by them to be sound; and that called for by the balance of the investment account, viz., $7,488.40, in safe securities, purchased at advantageous prices.

They desire to express the opinion that the class is under great obligations to its Secretary for the systematic manner in which the accounts of the class have been kept, and also for the sound discretion shown in the investment of the class funds, which investments, while safe, according to the opinion of your committee, yield to the class a net income of five per cent.

GEORGE A. SAWYER.
WILLIAM FARNSWORTH.
EDMUND M. PARKER.

Adjourned.

WILLIAM E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE FOURTEENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 25, 1884 (Commencement Day), in Holworthy 14. The Secretary's annual report of the class finances was read and accepted. A committee of three (Messrs. Sawyer, Farnsworth, and Parker), at the Secretary's request, was appointed to audit his accounts. Resolutions of respect to the memory of Classmate Conlan were presented by Classmate Tyler and adopted.

Adjourned.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE FIFTEENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 23, 1885, when the class dined together at the Parker House, Boston. Seventy-four members were present.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

THE SIXTEENTH CLASS MEETING

Was held June 24, 1885 (Commencement Day), in Holworthy, 14. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of Classmates Hovey and Tallant, who died during the past year. As the Secretary's financial report would soon appear in print, no report was made at this meeting, except that the committee had examined the accounts, and found them correct.

Adjourned.

WM. E. RUSSELL, Secretary.

NOTE. — At the conclusion of the business meeting, a silver service was presented to the Secretary by the class. The Secretary desires again to express his deep gratitude to the class for their very kind and generous remembrance, and to assure them that their sympathy and assistance, together with the strong, broad class feeling of old '77, have made his work a constant pleasure.
